The budget was segmented into ongoing and one-time additions, with ongoing additions totaling $1,389,930, primarily directed toward new positions and funding enhancements to bolster organizational growth and advance our equity-centered strategic plan.

2024-25 ASCC Budget

Hassana Alnajjar, ASCC Finance Director, provided an overview of the 2024-2025 ASCC budget process, underscoring the approval of $2,517,996 in funds and a remaining fund balance of $1,261,314. Jazz Program

Dr. Doug Harris, Director of Bands, said Clark College's music program boasts 20 talented musicians from nine local high schools, with an increase in auditions from 14 in 2018 to 38 in fall 2023. To: Dr. Karin Edwards, President
From: Sabra Sand, Vice President of Operations
Date: June 6, 2024
Subject: 2024-25 Budget

Background:

During the 2023-24 year, the college has seen state funded enrollments begin to increase in both traditional students as well as Running Start students. We are encouraged by these increases and are projecting them to continue for the 2024-25 year.

For the 2024-25 fiscal year, the College faced a small projected deficit before tuition and Running Start rate increases of about $400,000. At the same time, the college has an adequate fund balance, so we felt it prudent to address important budgetary requests to help enable continued growth and implementation of the equity centered strategic plan. Overall, approximately $1.39 million in new on-going items, as well as $639,000 in one-time items have been approved for funding. Tuition rates will increase slightly, along with Running Start reimbursements rates, reducing the reliance on fund balance.

Looking forward to the 2025-26 fiscal year, we will continue to use the Strategic Plan to drive future the budget decisions and provide alignment between strategic tenets and budget decisions. We are excited to use the key performance indicators to evaluate if additional funding and initiatives increase our metrics.

The 2024-25 budget is now ready for you to submit to the Board of Trustees on June 12. Key elements of this budget include the following:

- The College is projecting to serve 4,943 state-support FTES, up 514 from the 2023-24 budget.
- The College is projecting to serve 1,585 Running Start FTES, up 205 from the 2023-24 budget.
- Running Start reimbursement rates increased by about 5%; tuition rates increased by 3%.
- The College is funding new on-going budget items in the amount of $1.39 million.
- The College is funding a small portion of the new on-going cost by allocating approximately $495,000 from the fund balance.

Recommendation:

I recommend approval of the College's 2024-25 operating budget per the attached documents:

- Page 1. State Allocation & Projected Revenue: total budget of $146,565,318 for all funds.

- Revised ASCC Financial Code verbiage to allow additional funds to be allocated to programs receiving annual allocations.
- Increased Program Director stipend structure to the following:

Levels	Current Stipend	New Stipend
Level 1	$5,500	$6,000
Level 2	$3,850	$4,200
Level 3	$2,200	$2,400

- Approved the Instrumental Music travel to Cuba, making it the first approved post-COVID international trip.
- Utilized $427,591 of the fund balance to support activities.
- Maintained the current per credit S&A fee rate.

ASCC STUDENT GOVERNMENT BOARD OF TRUSTEES REPORT

June 2024

*Presented by:
ASCC President Emma Sturm*

Clark College Students Resources Access

The ASCC Student Government is working to ease students return to campus by providing awareness of college resources such as clubs, programs, workshops, events, leadership opportunities, the DEI office, and the tutoring center. Some ways that ASCC Student Government is working on doing this:

- Successfully handed out 161 Penguin Pantry boxes to students this past month. On top of the penguin pantry boxes, we also had a pop-up event where students could shop inside the Penguin Pantry. 118 students were served, providing 2,567 pounds of food.
- For the last time this academic year, ASCC partnered with Tutoring Services on the Snack & Study event to help provide free snacks and tutoring to students for the entire week before finals in the Cannell Library.

Clark College Campus Climate

ASCC Student Government is working to reengage students on campus. Some of the initiatives ASCC Student Government has done to achieve this:

- Hosted our annual Oswald Award ceremony where over 100+ students were nominated by faculty and staff members. Dr. Edwards was our opening speaker and additionally announced the Penguin Award winner, which happens to be our current ASCC Vice President, Elizabeth Swift.

Clark College State-Wide Initiatives

ASCC Student Government have started to outreach to form different partnerships state-wide. ASCC Student Government has been able to accomplish this through:

- ASCC hosted the Washington Secretary of State, Steve Hobbs, in PUB 160 on June 4th from 2-3pm. During this event, Hobbs gave a summary of his position, the importance of civic engagement, and students were able to ask him questions.

General Work Updates:

- We have successfully hired a full team for Student Government for the 2024-2025 academic year.

WPEA Classified Staff Updates:

- The Clark College WPEA would like to congratulate the graduates of 2024! This time of year is so exciting to be able to see students that staff have worked with achieve their goals. We look forward to seeing students continue to impact the community even after their journey at Clark comes to an end.
- The WPEA and Clark College recently settled 2 unfair labor practices. Attached is the agreed posting from the college. The WPEA does not believe the college has fully executed the agreement of posting as the college has not posted the notification in all buildings where bargaining unit members work.
 - o The first settlement was brought forward by WPEA to address the issue that the college did not notify the Union that the cashiers office was moving and did not bargain in good faith. Cashier staff will receive evacuation training that was not provided after they moved.

- The second settlement was brought forward by WPEA to address the issue that the college interfered with the representational rights of employees. The college will permit Union-represented employees to have Union representation in investigatory meetings, allow Union representatives to offer assistance to Union-represented employees during investigatory meetings, will refrain from interfering with employee rights in line with RCW 41.56, and will attend formal training given by AAG Shawn Horlacher on conducting investigations.
- May kicked off the WPEA Higher Education bargaining session with OFM. The bargaining team have had great discussions but have noticed the absence of Clark's presence on the agencies side. We want to underline the importance of representation for both WPEA and the agencies inside of the coalition as decisions made at the table impact all sides.
- Finally, The Clark College WPEA Leadership Team spent the last few weeks collecting feedback from our members regarding safety concerns such as lockdown notification time, reporting parameters, college communication about incidents to the college community, the college's leadership response, and how the college will be moving forward effectively knowing these gaps exist from the May 14th lockdown incident. The feedback has been shared with Dr. Edwards and our leadership team awaits to hear responses to the following questions posed:
 - How will the college address concerns and identify gaps in our feedback and the feedback from the college forums?
 - How long does the college anticipate these changes to take place?
 - When can we expect to receive updates on how these concerns and gaps will be addressed, and where or who will we hear from?

As of June 4th, The Clark College Leadership Team have not yet received the after-action report. We hope that the college is also requesting feedback from other staff, faculty, and students to receive well-rounded responses to address gaps and concerns. We have attached the feedback to our report.

Notice Re: PERC Case #137766-U-23

The College respects the rights of employees to collectively bargain and be represented by their union.

In the case referenced above, the College failed to bargain in good faith in relation to the facts and circumstances that led to the filing of ULP Complaint No. 137766-U-23.

This notice will be posted from 5-24-24 through 6-23-24. This is an official notice and must not be defaced, altered, or covered by any other material.

The Clark College WPEA Leadership team is bringing forward safety concerns from our represented members that were captured from verbal conversations and via a survey. In conversations with members and testimony from our survey, there have been gaps identified in the college's safety protocols such as lockdown notification time, reporting parameters, college communication about incidents to the college community, the college's leadership response, and how the college will be moving forward effectively knowing these gaps exist.

The Clark College WPEA Leadership team has a vested interest in working with college leadership to address concerns our members have raised and would like to know:

- How will the college address concerns and identify gaps in our feedback and the feedback from the college forums?
- How long does the college anticipate these changes to take place?
- When can we expect to receive updates on how these concerns and gaps will be addressed, and where or who will we hear from?

While we understand that the college aims to continue to move forward, our goal is to ensure that the college takes an honest look at the policies and procedures in place that are intended to keep our members safe, keep what works, and adjust what needs to be improved so that when the next incident occurs, our members and members of the community have confidence in the college's response.

As part of a healthy shared governance practice, we hope that the college not only takes the feedback from the college community that they heard from the open sessions, front-line responders and communicators, and constituent reports like this one, but will communicate and formulate a thoughtful and proactive response that includes action items that will be addressed, and answers to questions staff had/have around related to procedures and protocols.

We lastly want to commend Sergeant Damon Grady and our security staff for their response to the lockdown and for holding space for the college to come give feedback and ask questions.

The following information is listed by topics of feedback we received verbally with members and are not verbatim responses:

Lockdown process and notification:

- Members brought up concerns about the amount of time it took to receive a lockdown notification. The lockdown notification occurred approximately 20 minutes after the incident happened.
- There was confusion regarding the all-clear message because an all-clear RAVE message for the CTC campus occurred and then an all-clear RAVE message for the main campus was communicated after.

- Some folks indicated not receiving notifications on their computers or a RAVE alert on their cell phones.
- Folks are asking for the message to alert the campus of a lockdown to contain “THIS IS NOT A DRILL” at the beginning of the message.
- Folks without phones and not in their offices were not alerted as there are no speakers outside or in most buildings to send an alert of a lockdown.
- Zoom phones were still ringing during lockdown- worried it may give away folks during lockdown incidents.
- During the event taking place in the student center, staff felt unprepared to proceed during the lockdown. Procedures have not been widely shared on campus.

Safety concerns regarding the May 13th incident:

- Concerns about not receiving some kind of notification about the incident that occurred on Mcloughlin Blvd.
- Folks brought up that since the same person who attacked the Clark College employee on May 14 also perpetrated the crime on the 13, that would have been helpful information for our members to know who to look out for.
- The lack of communication regarding this incident has garnered confusion about the college’s policy and requirements for notification to the community of crimes that occur at or near the campus.

Communication from the college:

- Some VP areas immediately met with their team to talk about the May 14 incident, holding multiple meetings and meeting one-on-one with their employees, whereas other VP areas have not yet met, took a week to meet with their departments, or only held a 15-minute meeting with their department employees.
- Folks felt that 24 hours for the president to send a message regarding the incident was too long.
- Staff were not aware of communication of the incident to students, were not sure what they could share, and were fielding questions and information that they felt they should not have had to.
- There was no communication from the college regarding a description of the assailant. The local news was the only source giving a description.
- Folks asked for information about what is happening to be sent out as early as possible.

Department/building specific concerns:

- As facilities employees work in many spaces, they are less likely to receive communications about lockdowns with the college’s current notification structure.
- Ensuring there is constant and up-to-date training on the college’s emergency procedures for our facilities folks is imperative to their safety while working.

- CFS employees are often caring for children while they work. Knowing the correct protocols for releasing children while under lockdown is needed how to determine if they should allow someone into the building while under lockdown.
- There was also miscommunication regarding what was going on during campus. There was information shared at CFS that there was an active shooter.
- Some offices in GHJ do not have blinds on the windows of their department, along with other departments that have to manually close their windows off from the public space.
 - o Training on how to proceed with whether or not to close the blinds/windows during the lockdown is needed.

Communication from the college to WPEA and AHE:

- The Clark College WPEA Leadership Team was made aware that Brad Avakian personally called to notify the faculty union representative of the incident occurring while WPEA received this information the next day. We are happy to see that the college can swiftly communicate such instances with some of its constituents, though it is noticed that the college does not see sharing such information needs to be done equally.

The following information is the feedback received regarding the lockdown incident on Tuesday, May 14, 2024 via survey.

Question: Were you on campus on May 14th during the lockdown?

Question: What do you think was done well?

- Going through the motions on the previous drills on campus made me feel clear on what to do and I was confident taking appropriate steps.
- I heard a lot of appreciation for how lockdown of the Gaiser event was handled.
- The alert system worked as I got a text and noticed the next day that my work computer had an alert as well
- Quick procedures.
- The communication after the incident - as information became available EC and Safety & Security shared with the College Faculty & Staff.

- Probably only the clean up.
- Leadership in the area I was in did a good job keeping everyone calm and in a safe place.

Question: What do you think could be improved?

- The notification system seems to have several issues.
- Not everyone got the notifications from what I heard. There needs to be a better way to track who isn't getting the correct notifications (if you don't know exactly what notifications you're supposed to get where during the drills, you can't report them missing). I heard people left campus during the lockdown because they assumed they didn't get the all clear.
- "This is not a drill" needs to be an upfront phrase in the notification language in the event of a real emergency, because a lot of people assumed at first it was another drill.
- There needs to be better communication on how the drills fit into emergency prep because people are confused at their frequency. They get annoyed and dismiss/ignore the notifications, making them more likely to dismiss/ignore them in a real event.
- I heard there was not a plan for locking down events in Gaiser and the team had to improvise.
- Campus messaging was severely lacking in timeliness and compassion. The Colombian and KATU had more information than what was shared with employees, and not hearing anything from college leadership until nearly 24 hours after the event made me feel like they did not care.
- We were expected to return to our frontline student facing jobs as though nothing had happened and it was just business as usual. The slightest hint of snow and ice will close the campus down but a violent act against an employee with the assailant still at large provoked no messaging or even option for working remotely much less campus closure. No guidance came from leadership or even any acknowledgement that we had all just experienced a collective trauma. Even now, it is absurd to me that there don't seem to be any plans to bring in outside counselors (through EAP maybe?) or to provide anything other than the few, poorly advertised "forums" that felt much more like a press conference than the college working to make us all feel safer on campus. And speaking of EAP, not all employees are eligible for that benefit- what are we offering those employees who may need support after this event?
- It feels like they want everyone to forget that it happened at all and just move on, which as anyone with even the smallest knowledge of trauma-informed practices would know is the absolute wrong way to handle this situation. Clark- as usual- seems always to be in reaction mode rather than pro-active or preparatory mode.
- Co-workers who were in common areas said they did not see or hear a lockdown alert. No speaker or sirens alerting them to an issue.
- Not keeping us in the dark with what is going on. Even after higher up executives knew; we were told they "couldn't disclose anything yet". We were shoved in a large, dark closet and told to stay away from windows and doors. That's it.
- Faster lockdown. I'm sure the attacker walked right by the building I work in at a time when many students and staff (myself included) were leaving for the day. I left right at 4:30 and heard the sirens. When I passed GHL I saw a VPD vehicle with it's lights flashing. I didn't get notified of the drill until I was off campus. I think updated announcements during lockdown to remind folks to stay put and stay quiet - even just Lockdown this is not a drill repeated.

- Update the mandatory online training to match current procedures. Or eliminate it from the mandatory training.
- More clear communication that the event that is happening IS NOT A DRILL and an actual lockdown. Co workers were unsure if it was really happening.
- Why did it take from 4:23 to 4:43ish before lockdown was called?
- Still did not hear lockdown called until others said something. Then saw announcement on big screen.

Question: Do you have any other pieces of feedback or questions to share?

- While the incident that took place the day before the lockdown wasn't "technically" on campus, I feel strongly that it should have been shared with the campus community.
- It's shocking to me, and seems like an egregious safety concern, that all the landline phones have been removed from campus when our cell reception and Wi-Fi is so terrible. There are places on campus including classrooms and offices that were occupied during the lockdown that had no way to contact anyone on the outside.
- We should have been notified of the prior incident with this person so we could have been aware.
- Main campus locks need to be updated.
- There needs to be a special counselor brought in for the victim if they won't bring anyone in for everyone else. Is that person back to work? Doubtful. If we don't get them a counselor NOW, they may never come back.
- RAVE alerts via personal phone/email always arrive a few minutes late.
- Would have been beneficial to provide a description of the suspect early on rather than waiting for several hours to release the information.
- I've heard that certain individuals on campus did not take the lockdown precautions for the entire lockdown. After all the training and the posted materials and constant stories in the news about school shootings. If I were in the building and heard others not following procedure I would be more stressed / scared especially not knowing the reason for the lockdown.
- The mandatory training is required once a year. There should be in-person refresher training offered throughout the year.
- The displays [emergency posters] are treated as nuisance and not a tool for protection. Many are decorated over, or replaced by advertisements.
- Was on my phone, how ever phone was silenced.
- I completed my Emergency Protocols at Clark College training on May 13, 2024. At that time, I noticed that the Lockdown training posted on campus Exits and other locations on the flyer Emergency Procedures did not match what was posted.
